FOREWORD

High the torch was held above us,
Proud we stood beneath its flame
And now our thoughts recall within us
Braintree High's triumphant name.

Proud we march toward the crossroad
Stable, ready, unafraid,
Traveling with a lightened burden
For our foundation has been firmly laid.

Well were our lessons instilled within us,
Christian doctrines to prevail
For with Braintree's folks behind us
We must not falter; we must not fail.

The privilege of American citizenship demands the acceptance of its responsibilities.

The School Board Meets in Our Behalf

Braintree School Committee

Your duties are many and varied
In setting up school routine.
Your work is oft unnoticed;
Your efforts go quite unseen.

You arrange the annual budget
And prepare the teaching staff.
You form the courses of study,
All this in our behalf.

A committee of untiring workers
Without you we'd never succeed.
The town and the students thank you
For every unselfish deed.

The Class of 1905
requests the pleasure of the company of Mr. & Mrs. William Fuller
at its Class
on June fourth at eight o'clock
at the King Philip in Wrentham

Sincerely,
Charlotte Stewart
Class Secretary

Our Leaders

Strong, skilled leaders direct our schools
These men inspire confidence.
They help to formulate our rules
And lead us on to prominence.

Their guidance, foresight, and control
We know is for our gain.
We surge ahead to reach that goal
They would have us attain.

IT'S the FACULTY THAT COUNTS

WALTER K. HJELM

We thought of you as the Captain
Of the Good Ship Braintree High.
We trustingly sought your council
When our troubles reached the sky.
We knew your understanding
Through each and every day
As you sought to help and guide us
Along our stumbling way.
We've seen by your example
A course set straight and true
A beacon to be followed
All our life's path through.
As now we set our sails for unknown ports and shores
We hope that everything we do
Will show the deep respect and love
Which we all feel for you.

KATHLEEN W. CAMPBELL

She is gentle, kind, and sweet
A more perfect lady you'll never meet.
Of every student she makes a friend
Her record of service will never end.

Patient in dealing with the erring
Quick to help those in distress
We all love you, Mrs. Campbell,
For you are among the best.

FOR THESE PAST YEARS, THANKS

Let's look back o'er the past four years
Beginning when we were freshmen.
We had our doubts and our fears,
But we tried our best to suppress them.

With our goals up ahead and courage behind us,
We carefully made our way
Along the road which carried us
To where we stand today.

Some went to South, some to Hollis—
At both we shared good times.
Were we rivals? You bet! Let us never forget
Those days that are now behind.

Our sophomore year was next in line,
An easy year for some;
But those of us with college in mind
There was plenty of work to be done!

We struggled with x plus y plus z,
And un, deux, quatre, and cinq.
Yet when the year ended, most all were contented
With marks that were fair and frank.

The year was climaxed by the Sophomore Social,
Our very own affair!
We put on new clothes and proceeded to dance
To the music of the Alan-Aires.

Our Junior year was one of the best.
(Except, of course, for all the tests!)
We chose our class rings, planned our prom,
Began our yearbook, and time rolled along.

Before we knew it we were almost through it,
Yes, our school days were nearly completed.
We were nearing the day when we all could say,
"I wish they could be repeated."

Seniors at last! How the time flew!
And oh, there was so much for us to do!
Our Christmas party, exchanging class photos,
Paying class dues and gosh, who knows?

There was the Senior Show (the best ever),
Yearbooks to sign, could it last forever?
Our reception and banquet
And then the day came.

In caps and gowns we bid adieu
To Braintree High, our friend tried and true.
To her we sang, "For these past years we offer thanks,
Thanks for thy charities."

We'll always remember, and may we endeavor
To keep her among fond memories.

YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU

The Class of 1960, having finally come to its senses, has realized once and for all that "you can't take it with you." (Don't think they didn't try, however.) Now, seeing their way clearly, they wish to proclaim to the world their unselfish bequests.
Dave Nelson leaves his cowboy hats to Wyatt Twirp.
Dee Tarbox leaves her powerful set of vocal cords to Bill Elliott.
Judy Falardeau leaves her acting ability to Carol Moore.
Bob O'Brien wills his sleepy expression to Bob Neill.
John Shuster bequeaths his endless supply of jokes to his understudy, Bill Galebach.
Beau Seppala leaves his dimples to Bucky Ward.
Doug Hedlund leaves his carrots to Bugs Bunny.
Bruce Emens leaves wondering why he came in the first place.
Toot-Toot Young leaves on the 8:03.
Jean Zanotti leaves as carefree as ever.
The girls' tennis team leave their tennis balls to the ventilating system in the gym.
Jean Bacon leaves her ability to swing on the rings to the monkeys at Franklin Park.
Ace Brock leaves his talented voice to Richard Trumbull.
Porky Meehan leaves his recipe for "growing" to those little junior boys.
Steve Denton leaves through the back door.
Bette Monti leaves Mr. Bruce peace and quiet.
Ellen Wright leaves an echo in the corridors.
Rat Estrella leaves his bloodhound instinct to anyone who wants to find Framingham.
Dave Willard leaves if he can finish serving his time in session hall.
Ada LeVangie leaves sneakers showing stress and strain.
Slim McKean leaves to join Barbara D.
Bill Farley leaves his spot in front of Jennings' to Tony Spadea.
Eddie and Ernie leave much to the relief of Bay State League tacklers.
Bubbles Dyer leaves her weird expressions to Mr. Perry.
Bob Schroth leaves his love for the Bruins to Mrs. Brizzolara.
Marilyn Yorke wills her quiet ways to Carol Brock.
Paul MacKenzie bequeaths his kilts to the tallest Scotsman in the junior class.
Bob Fisher leaves his C3 . . . he doesn't want it.
Snooky Smith leaves his attraction to girls to Peter West.
Rocco leaves his office as president of the Haystack Fan Club to Bill Whittam.
Dave Peacock leaves his car deeply imbedded in the sand at Braintree Dam.
Bugsy Coleman leaves his powerful left arm to Warren Spahn.
The Advanced Physics class leaves enough copies of page 14, Sunday Herald of March 28, 1959, to wallpaper the gym.
Paul Pimentel and Bonnie Hendrickson leave together, just as they have done everything else together.
The Latin III class leaves unprepared, as usual.
Scratch Monet leaves his coveted seat in the House of Representatives to Mike Maguire.
Jack Campbell and Danny Rumrill leave their coke-stained aprons at Smiley's.
Pat Wilson leaves a trail of broken hearts.
The basketball rooters leave Walpole with a police escort.
Pat Cole leaves her seat in Advanced Physics to any girl who wants to be surrounded by boys for two periods a day.
Gail, Nancy, and Phil leave several copies of a pamphlet entitled, "How to Lose Gracefully."
Linda Rolfe leaves her hockey game to anyone who wants a party to be a big success.
Eddie O'Brien leaves his transmission in the middle of Braintree Square.
Brad Gile leaves his green thumb to the biology lab.
Dave Nicholson leaves his patchwork quilt (gym suit) to Raggedy Ann.
Frank Barca leaves his appreciation of poise in oral topics to Mrs. Gutterson.
Phil Sheldon leaves his knack for getting into trouble to anyone who thinks he can get out of it.
Mr. Bixby's boys leave the shops looking as if a small tornado had struck.
Joe, Bill, Bill, and Rocco leave realizing full well the relationship between track and chemistry.
Tom LaTanzi leaves the continued services of a certain English teacher and football coach of the same last name.
Eddie James leaves Miss Halloran several bushels of red, ripe apples.
Joan Murphy leaves her blush to Miss Taber.
Kathy Dolan leaves her flirting ways to Sue Fall.
Pat Duffy leaves her seat in band to anyone with a good set of ear drums.
Jay Kaar leaves in a slightly knuckled condition.
Connie Avallone leaves the memory of her big, happy family to haunt B.H.S.
Phil Zoebisch leaves to buy a bottle of NO-DOZE pills for use in American history.
Phil Connors leaves — well, he just leaves.
Martha Campbell leaves her pony tail to Trigger.
Sharon Low and Carla McGinness leave quite a bit of nerve . . . enough to wear a toga all day.
Bob Smith leaves wondering what his middle initial is.
Seventh period American history class leaves Mr. Kingsbury to run the school.
Linda, Marilyn, and Bill entrust to Miss Stecher many bottles of Anacin and three ice-bags for next year's editors.
The Class Will Committee leaves still marvelling that they met their dead-line.

William Tulsa, Jr. - Author, Lecturer, and Educator

"Our Russian Allies is the title of - - - - - " yes, all your stories did have an original beginning and a punche ending.

Seriously, F + S, I've never known a teacher like you before this year, probably never ever will met another like you either since graduation is only around the corner

I'll always will remember the short, blue-eyed "teacher" I had in American History - I'll really try to forget you, but I'll just have to think of your looks, personality understanding and family - and to forget you will be impossible.

Many thanks for the patience you've had with me and all that you have taught me about life (don't take that in a wrong way, Mal!)

So goodby for now, I hope I'll see you and Mal and the kids again after graduation. Very sincerely, Barbara Conrad

Mr Zilene (Bill),

You are one Teacher I know I will never forget. Your personality, understanding, patience, and good looks have all helped to make you an outstanding person as well as teacher.

Your unique way of teaching American History has made it a subject hard to forget. I really learned something in your class. All our field trips were the highlights of the year and helped me to understand things better.

The many stories and letters I typed only helped to broaden my education of the world. They were very good and interesting. News Club just would not have been News Club without you.

My thanks for everything you have helped make my 2 years at B. H. S unforgettable.

Best wishes and God bless you, Mrs D the kids. See you this summer.
